c.1845 - 1907

The north side of Cross St. east of Riverside Ave. is improved by a variety of building types. The earliest houses on the block, a group of two story plus attic, two bay wide brick houses built by several different builders in the 1840's and early 1850's, is located in the middle of the block at 430-450 E. Cross St. To the east of this group of houses, there is a small, one story, gable-roofed brick church, built in 1873 for the congregation of the Sailors' Union Bethel, a group of seamen who had formerly worshipped on the William Penn, an old clipper ship berthed at the Lee St. wharf. At the far eastern end of the block, near Covington St., there are several two and three story, simple brick structures built in the 1870's or earlier, which were formerly owned by the Rossmarck Brewery which operated a tavern on the site. At the western end of the block, near Riverside Ave., there are two distinct groups of late Victorian-style houses. The first group, 402-408 E. Cross St., is a group of two story, three bay wide brick houses with shed roofs and bracketed cornices, built by James F. Morgan in the late 1880's as part of his development of the adjoining section of Riverside Ave. At 410-420 E. Cross St. there is a row of two story, two bay wide brown brick houses with shed roofs and simple sheet metal bracketed cornices, built by Walter Hampson in 1907. This latter group, along with similar rows built by Hampson directly north of this row on Grindall and Hamburg Streets, are the last houses to be built in the Federal Hill area.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story, three bay brick building with shed roof is a late addition to the group of houses extending along this side of Cross St. It currently serves as a local tavern.

The building is two stories in height, about 20' wide, and occupies a lot 161' deep. The building extends back on its lot about 80', with a two story high, six bay deep rear addition. The building is constructed in running bond. The flat shed roof has no cornice. There is a double chimney located along the east side of the rear addition and a hooded rear end chimney located at the north end of the addition.

The second story window openings have common arch lintels and brick header sills. The windows are filled with 1/1 sash. The first floor area has been converted into a tavern with the original windows replaced by smaller windows filled with 1930's-style glass blocks. There is a centrally located, modern flush door. The entrance opens directly off the sidewalk.
